Welcome! CEGG is a teaching guild that is open to anyone interested in traditional and/or contemporary forms of embroidery. CEGG is a member of the Ontario Network of Needleworkers (ONN).

Fees

Full membership (includes registration for fall and winter classes, workshops etc.) $100

Associate membership (includes afternoon programs, workshops, mailings etc.) $50

N.B. Fees are not refundable after September 30th.

Selecting Classes and Registering.

On Registration Day, the instructors will have samples of their work on display and will be pleased to tell you about their classes. Registrants will fill out a registration form (available at registration and on our website) and will be asked to make 3 class choices, in order of preference, for the Fall session, and 3 choices for the Winter session. To ensure fairness, the selection of participants for each class will be made by a draw. Most people get their first choice and we hope that the same will occur this year.

The draw will take place at 12 noon or shortly thereafter and you will be notified, by telephone or email, of your two classes for the year. Please make note of your classes, although class lists will be available on the first day of class.

Be prepared to make your payment in cash or cheque. →If you prefer to pay by e-transfer this must be done in advance of Registration Day. E-transfer your fee to cegguelph@gmail.com by Sept. 8, 2023 then bring your Registration Form on Sept 12.

There are no advance registrations. If you are unable to sign up in person, do so through a friend or mail your registration to C.E.G.G., P.O. Box 25106, Stone Road PO, Guelph, ON N1G 4T4 by August 25th. Any questions about classes, please contact the Teaching Program Coordinator, Judy McMullan 519-572-3833.

Class Supplies: Members are responsible for course supplies. A list will be provided at Registration. Some courses may have an additional fee for supply kits or photocopying.
